1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not teach, disclose, or suggest the claimed limitations of (in combination with all other limitations in the claim), an information processor for generating print data to be transmitted to a printer comprising an intermediate code conversion unit for converting data to be printed which is generated by an application into a print job of an intermediate code format and temporarily storing the print job in association with print setting information for the data to be printed; a composition instructing unit for instructing a plurality of print jobs of the intermediate code format converted by the intermediate code conversion unit to be composed together so as to generate one composed job and a discrimination unit for analyzing the print setting information of the plurality of print jobs stored by the intermediate code conversion unit when the composition instructing unit instructs the plurality of print jobs to be composed together so as to obtain one composed job, and for discriminating whether the plurality of print jobs have a same print setting or different print settings for a certain print setting item for which each print job is allowed to have one unique print setting; a confirmation message display unit for if the discrimination unit discriminates that the plurality of print jobs have different print settings for the print setting item, displaying a confirmation message indicating that the different print settings should be unified to a common print setting, and a setting unifier unit for generating the print-setting information for the composed job based on the common print setting after the confirmation message display unit displays the confirmation message as claimed in claim 1.
